FROM an analysis of the matrimonial tables as shown by the report of the Census Bureau, it is observed that there are 6,267,779 bachelors in the country of 21 years or over and that there are 4,926,101 spinsters of marriageable age. New England has always been popularly supposed to be overburdened with single women, but the census reckoning shows that there is not a State in the entire New England group which has not a larger number of bachelors than spinsters to its credit. Massachusetts has a slight surplus of unmarried men, while in Maine the bachelors outnumber the spinsters at the ratio of two to one. Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut show a preponderance of bachelors, but the margin is very slight. It is in the West, however, that the greatest discrepancy in the relative numbers is shown. Think of California, the golden State, possessing 239,604 bachelors and only 88,705 maidens of 20 years of age and upwards. Doubtless it is no fault of the girls, even in that far Western country, but the girls in the East have no right to complain. There is plenty of male persuasion in the country and the Eastern girl who wants to get married but can not, should simply go West, where the marriageable men are a drug on the market.

A MERRY Christmas to our readers and patrons generally. We are thankful for the patronage received during the year almost gone and pledge our eagerness to merit a continuance of it. We have some decided improvements in view for early in the new year and promise to make the INTERIOR JOURNAL more readable in 1914 than it has been during its present management. The old year has dealt fairly well with us and like the rest of those who have reached the age when "years fly swiftly by," we are sorry to see it go. It is another mile stone nearer eternity, another step toward the grave.

It is recorded that, when Mrs. Dowle's French landlord, reading of the financial troubles in Zion, called on her with a request to settle her bill, he was met with a display of wealth which dazzled him. Her husband, Elijah the 2nd, is not on starvation street yet and never will be as long as he holds on to the poll he has on his people. He is too smart to be poor.

In his biennial report to the Legislature, Auditor Coulter says the present revenues of the State will provide ample funds for the erection and furnishing of a new capitol building and that the State would not have to borrow a dollar or increase the rate of taxation. Good. Let a decent one be built and locate it in the Blue Grass capital of Lexington.

If you want to thoroughly enjoy Christmas and have a prosperous and satisfactory year, do something today to help the poor and distressed. The crumbs from your table might stop the pangs of some empty stomach and make some soul happy. Think not of the rich in the distribution of your gifts, but remember the poor, who need your help.

THE building of the Pulitzer school of journalism at Columbia University, for which $2,000,000 was given by Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, has begun. It is to be finished by the Fall of 1914, and it is expected that Murat Halstead, the well known journalist, will be placed at its head.

THE sad news comes that the saloonkeepers of Owensboro have signed an agreement not to serve free egg nog on this Christmas day. This is a hard strike at the free drinker.

THE Somerset Journal's Xmas edition is good and pretty enough for the stocking of any lover of high-grade local papers. We congratulate you, Brer Campbell.

A PENNSYLVANIA condemned man gave each of the jury that convicted him a penny to be remembered by and each juror now wears his penny for a watch charm.

MATRIMONIAL.

Luther Reynolds and Della Roberts will be married at O. K. Sunday.

Willmer Fagley and Miss Artie Hicks were married at M. H. Hick's yesterday.

J. B. Farris and Miss Alberta Barton, both of the Waynesburg section, were joined heart and hand at J. W. Barton's yesterday.

Mr. J. S. Snow, of Casey, and Miss Nannie Gerten, of Knox county, were married Sunday. The groom is one of Casey's leading business men and his bride is said to be both pretty and accomplished.

Will Tombs and Miss Lucy Carson, the handsome daughter of Mr. C. R. Carson, of Casey, eloped to Tennessee and were married. On their return they were invited to the bride's home where they were given a delightful reception.

W. D. Garner and Miss Stella Singleton, popular young people of the East End, drove to Stanford Wednesday and were married at Mrs. S. G. Hocker's by Rev. O. M. Huey. The groom is an industrious young farmer and the bride is both pretty and popular.

Determined that the striking delivery drivers and the resulting famine of carriages should not interfere with his wedding, Antonio Locasco, of Chicago, hired a hospital ambulance and drove his bride and the bridal party in triumph to the Church of the Assumption, where the ceremony was performed.

At the Methodist parsonage at 4 P. M., Wednesday, Mr. Jesse B. Sartain and Miss Mamie Hatt were united in marriage, Rev. P. J. Rose officiating. The bride is one of our most attractive young ladies. Mr. Sartain is from Illinois. They will reside for the present at the home of the bride's mother. Their friends wish them the greatest happiness.

Mr. W. A. Hatcher and Miss Capitola Powell were made one at the bride's home in the Shelby City section at 11:30 Wednesday morning. Elder C. E. Powell, brother of the bride, officiating. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of Warren county and an excellent young man. Miss "Capole," as her friends call the bride, is the pretty and popular daughter of Capt. Ben F. Powell and is a charming young woman. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL joins their host of friends in wishing them long lives of genuine happiness. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher left for their future home near Bowling Green.

Charles Lutes, a prominent stock trader of Stanford, and Miss Katherine Wilcher, also of that city, were quietly married at the Gilcher House this morning by Rev. W. G. Montgomery, pastor of the Christian church at Moreland. The young couple surprised their friends in Lincoln by driving to Danville and having the knot tied. They were accompanied by Mr. Joe Benton and Miss Daley McGuire and Mr. John Pence and Miss Abbie Lutes, all of Lincoln county.—Advocate. The couple have been sweethearts for a long time and it has been conceded for several years that they would some day marry. Mr. Lutes is a fine young business man, while his bride is a beautiful brunette and most excellent young lady. We extend hearty congratulations and wish Mr. and Mrs. Lutes all the pleasures that a happy marriage can bring.

On Wednesday, Dec. 16, having just rounded out 50 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Reynolds celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home near Shelby City. None are better known and loved more than are "Uncle Bob" and "Aunt Patsy," as they are familiarly known by their host of friends. Uncle Bob has passed his 77th milestone, while Aunt Lucy the 74th. Mr. Reynolds was born and reared in the famous Sweet Water valley, of Tennessee. Mrs. Reynolds, whose maiden name was Lucy A. Dameron, is a thorough Kentuckian, the eldest daughter of Samuel Dameron, of Adair county, who 50 years ago was the largest land and slave holder in the country and one of the most influential men of his time. In her earlier days she was noted as the finest rifle shot in Kentucky, at one time defeating a soldier, the best rifle shot in the army, the distance being 500 yards. Even today she retains a good deal of her skill. With a shot gun she recently killed nine bawls that had been troubling her chickens. But few have spent a better and happier life than this bride and groom of 50 years. They were blessed with three children, all of whom were with them on this occasion, their immediate family having never been broken. The children are Mrs. Mary W. R. Morris, of Woodford county; Mr. W. A. Reynolds, the popular Junction City druggist, and Miss Nancy Reynolds. Invitations were issued to their friends for a reception Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, but on account of sudden and severe illness of Mr. Reynolds, were compelled to be canceled. Nevertheless they were remembered by their friends and received many letters of congratulation and a number of useful and beautiful presents; among them a handsome set of golden oak dining chairs from Mr. Will Newton, Yorkville, Ill.; a handsome tea chair from Mr. Robert Newton, of Yorkville; a $5 gold piece from Miss Annie Davis, a beautiful berry spoon from Mr. Alexander Grant, of Louisville, souvenir spoons from Mrs. Sallie Goode, Lexington, souvenir spoons from Mr. and Mrs. F. Boyd, Covington, gold thimble and cuff buttons from Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Taylor, Augusta, Kansas, gold spoon from Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Davis, Lexington, gold vase, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Morris, Crab Orchard, $50 in gold coin from their children and grand-children, a handsome gold watch for the groom from his son, Mr. W. A. Reynolds.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. After sending out 103 editions we feel that we are entitled to a few days' rest and propose to take it. The office will be open each day during the holidays, however, and if you have business of any kind, old scores to settle up, fault to find, or any thing of the sort, you will find the editor in his sanctum ready and willing to wait on you or to listen to your tale of woe. In this connection we might add that during the joyful season just begun would be a first-rate time to "square that little account," but of course we do not ask you to do such a thing. We merely want to remind those who are behind with us that it is harm neither in the sight of God nor man to pay debts during Christmas.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cared by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock food. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it is possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stir up the torpid liver.
It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows

And hens lay more eggs. It solves the Miss Annie McKee will begin a sub-

Messrs D. M. Creighton and James Florence are the leading sportsmen of our town.

Miss Della Leach and Sam Rigney are to be married Christmas day. The bride is a very sweet young lady and the groom is a fine young man. Several other weddings are spoken of.

The work at the big trestle still continues and a large number of men are employed. Mr. Davidson was severely injured by a heavy rock falling on him, caused by the blasting, but is improving.

The school entertainment Friday evening at the close of Misses Lulu Hicks and Annie McKee's term was entertaining from first to last. Everyone acted "well his part" and the tableau in which Mrs. Taylor posed, was sublime.
The music was exceptionally fine.

Clarence Dunn, of Ludlow, is at home for the holidays. Geo. Bradley is visiting at North Middletown. Massachusetts Chevalotte is at home for the holidays. John Howe went to Somerset Monday. Wm. Wolf, of Nicholasville, is our present efficient ticket agent. Dr.
O'Bannon, of Stanford, was here Tuesday. Jesse D. Wearren, of Stanford, was here a few days since. Win. Pilot, Jr., is at home after a long absence.
Master Lawrence Williams is spending a few days with his mother at Eubanks.
Miss Gertrude Davidson is quite sick.
Little Fred McCarty has been ill. Master Will McCarty, young son of Mr. J.
M. McCarty, is making a capital clerk for his father during the holidays. G.

count of the illness of their mother, Mrs. W. T. Tucker.

Josh Jones was here Thursday on business and told us that his immense barn is near completion and will be one of the best in that section.

The people of Pine Grove are preparing to have a Christmas tree and are expecting a good time, but regret very much that Mrs. W. T. Tucker, who is one of the best christian women that we have, can not take part on account of her illness.

CLIMATIC CURES.—The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectora-tion in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottle 25c; regular size 75c. At all druggists.

The sale of cut roses in the United States amounts to about $6,000,000 a year: carnations, $1,000,000; violets, $750,000 and chrysanthemums—a short crop—$7,000,000. The annual production is estimated at $100,000,000 each for roses and carnations and $50,000,000 for violets. This statement shows the great superiority of the carnation in two important points. It can be produced and sold more cheaply than the rose and its keeping qualities are very much greater. The carnation will never have as much sentiment as the rose, but it is destined to outstrip the rose as the people's flower, if indeed it has not already done so.
